

Maria Cull

Life Scholarship

Maria Cull was a vibrant and social mother, wife, sister, Nana, aunt, and friend who loved living life to the fullest. She enjoyed traveling, cheering on her favorite teams, and afternoon tea with family and friends. She also greatly appreciated the arts. Maria loved theater, especially the annual trip to the local Watford Panto and bi-annual trips to see musicals in London.

Maria valued the impact organized activities would have on her children's lives in preparing them for the future. Therefore, all her children participated in some sort of team related endeavor. Her daughter grew up dancing, playing soccer, and girlguiding. Her two sons were also in scouts as well as being involved with both their school and local club teams for cricket, rugby, and soccer. These activities were not only an outlet for the three Bromwich children's energy and competitiveness, but also an opportunity for life lessons including, but not limited to, dedication, accountability, and collaboration.

Maria Cull battled Ovarian Cancer for 8 years.
1956-2015
